

ANSWER KEY

A summary:

Rosen (2008) suggests that an analysis in academic setting is the argumentative study and understanding of parts of something using analytical tools for all different subjects.